TREATISE MADE

Athanasius the great, concerning the vse and pertue of the Psalmes.

LL holy Scripture is certainely the teacher of all vertue and of true Faith but the Booke of the Pia mes doth expresse after a certaine manner, the very state and condition of the soulc. For as he which intendeth to present himselfe to a King first will compound with himfelfeto fet in good order both his gesture and his speech, lest eise hee might be reputed rude and ignorant euen fo doth this godly Booke informe all fuch as be defirous to lead their life in vertue, & to know the life of our sameur, which he led in his convertation, putting them in minde in the reading thereof, of all their affections and passions whereto their scule is included.

Moreouer, the Plalmes informe and teach every man with divers instructions, wherby he may not onely espie the affections and state of his Soule, and to winne a good patterne and discipline, how he may please God; but also with what forme of words he may amend himselfe, and how to give God due thankes, left if he should speake otherwise than were convenient, he should fail into impictie, by his vineuerent estimation of God, for we must all make an account to the Judge, as well of our euill deeds, as of our words's

If therefore thou wouldest at any time bescribe a blessed man, who he is, and what thing I maketh him to be for thou ball the 1.32.41. 112. 128. Platines.

And call me not to mine account, bow I baue lived bere: for then I know right well D Lord, how bile I hall appeare. Ined not to confeste my life, I am fure thou canft tell; what I have beine, and what I am, I know thou knowell it well.

D Lord thou knowl what things be pall, and eke the things that be: thou knowell also what is to come, nothing is bid from the. (then: Before the beatiens and earth were made, thou knowell what things were as all things elle that have bene fince, among the Sonnes of men.

And can the things that I have done, be hidden from the then? nay, nay, thou knowest them all. O Lozd, where they were done, a when. Where foze with teares I come to the, to beg and to intreat:

euen as a Childe that bath done ill, and feareth to be heate.

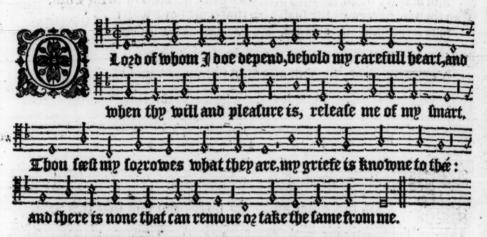

So come I to the mercy gate, where mercy doth abound: requiring mercy for my finne, to beate my deadly wound. D Lozd, I need not to repeate what I doe beg, og craue:

thou knowell D Lozd befoze I aske, the thing that I would have.

The humble fuite of a Sinner.

Dercy good Loed, mercy Jaske, this is the totall fumme, for mercy Loed is all my fuit, Loed let thy mercy come.

The humble fuit of a Sinner.

But onely thou whole and I craue, whole mercy still is press, to eate all those that come to the for succour and for rest. And sith thou feels my restless eyes, my teares, and grievous grone: attend but o my sute, D Lord, marke well my plaintiand mone,

For Anne bath to inclosed me, and compast me about, that I am now remeditede, if mercy belpenot out.
For mortall man cannot release, or mitigate this paine: but even thy Christ, my Lord and God, which for my lins was claime,

Those blody wounds are pet to fee, though not with moztall eye:

Pet doe thy Saints behold them all, and so I trust shall I.

Though sinne doe binder me a while, when thou shall fee it good,

I shall enion the light of him, and see his wounds and blood.

And as thine Angels and thy Saints doe now behold the fame:
fo trust I to possesse that place, with them to prayle thy name.
But whill I live heare in this bale, where simers doe frequent, askis me ever with the grace, my sinnes still to lament.

Lest that I tread in sinners trace, and give them my content to walke with them in wickednesse, whereto nature is bent.

Onely thy grace must be my stay least that I fall downe stat:

and being downe, then of my selfe cannot recover that.

Therefoze this is yet once againe, my fute and my requelt:

fo grant me pardon for my finne, that I in thee may reli,

Then that my beart, my tongue, and voyce, be infruments of prayle, and in thy Church and house of Saints, sing Platmes to thee alwaies.

Noli æmulari. Pfal. xxxvij. W. W.

Because the godly Gould not wonder to fee the wicked men profper in this world, the Prophet fheweth that all things hall be granted, according to their hearts defire, to them that love and leare God: and they that doe the contrire, although they feeme to flourish to a time, thall at length perify.

Sing this as the 35. Pfalme.

Rudge not to fee the wicked men, in wealth to flourish fill: noz pet enupsuch as to ill, baue bent and set their will.

- 2 for as greene grade and flourthing hearbes, are cut and wither away: to thall their great prosperitie, some palle, fade, and decay.
- 3 Trust thou therefoze in God alone, to doe well aive the minde: to walt thou bave the land as thine, and there fure foo walt finde.
- 4 In God let all thy bearts delight, and looke what thou would have: ozelle canft with in all the world, thou need fit not to crave.
- 5 Call both thy felfe and thine affaires, on God with perfect trult: and thou thalt fee with patience, th'effed both fure and just.
- 6 Thewerfed life and goody name, be will cleare as the light: to that the Summe even at none daies, wall not wine halfe to bright.
- 7 Be Will therefore and Redfally, on God lethou wait then: not heinking for the profperous flate, of lewd and wicked men,
- 8 Shake off despight enuy and hate, at least in any wife: their wicked Geps anothe and flie, and follow not their guile.
- 9 For enery wicked man will God, destroy both more and lesse: but fuch as truft in God, are fure, the land for to pollelle,
- 10 Watch but a while, and thou halt le no moze the wicked traine: no not to much as boute of place, where once he did remaine,

The fecond part.

- 11 But mercifull and bumble men, enjoy hall fea and land: in rest and peace they shall rejoyce, for nought shall them withstand,
- 12 The lewd men and malicious, against the just conspire: they quall their teeth at him as men, which doe his bane delire.
- 13 But while that lend men thus do think the Lord laughs them to scorne:
- for why? he feeth their terme approach, when they thall ligh a mourne. 14 The wicked baue their fword out drawne, their how eke baue they bent to overthrow and kill the pore, as be the right way went.
- 15 But the fame frozd thalf pierce their bearts, which was to hill the just: likewife the bow thall breake to thiners, wherein they put their trust.

RESH. The 20. part.

19 trouble and affliction, confider and behold: beliner me: for of the law I ever take faft hold.

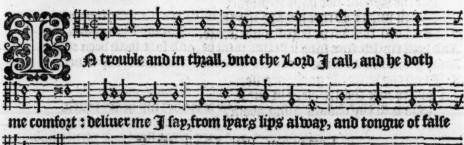

- 154 Defend my good and righteous cause, with speed me succour send: from death, as thou haft promited, Lord, keepe me and Defend.
- 155 As for the wicked, farre they are from having health and grace: whereby they might thy statutes know, they enter not the trace.
- 156 Great are the mercies, Lord, I grant, what tongue can them attaine? and as thou half me indg d ere now, to let me life obtaine.
- 157 Though many men did trouble me, and perfecute me fore, pet from thy lawes I never thunke, not went away therefore.
- 158 And truth it is, for griefe I die when I thele traytors fee: because they keepe no whit thy word, not yet seeke to know thee.
- 159 Behold, for I doe love thy lawes with heart most glad and faine: as thou art good and gratious, Lord reflore my life againe.
- 160 13 hat the 1202d doth decree must be, and so it hath been ever: thy righteous indepment are also most true, and decay never. The 21. part.
- D Rinces have fought by cruelty cauteleffe to make me crouch: but all in baine: for of the word the feare did my heart touch.
- 162 And certainely even of thy word I was more merry and glad: than he which of rich spoyles and prey great store and plenty had.
- 163 As for allies and fallities, I hate most and betest: for why, thy holy lawes doe I about all things love best.
- 164 Seauen times a day I mayle the Lord, linging with heart & hoice: the righteous acts and wonderfull to cause me to reioyce.
- 165 Great peace and reft thall all fuch have as doe thy flatutes love: no danger shall their quiet state empaire or once remove.
- 166 Dine onely belpe and comfort, Lord, I looke for at thy hand: and therefore have I done those things which thou dids me command.
- 167 Thy lawes have been mine exercise, which my soule most desie'd: so much to them my love was bent, that nought else I requir'd.
- 168 The statutes and commandements Tkept thou knowest aright: for all the things that I have done, are prefent in thy light.
- The 2 2. part. Load let my complaint and sty, before the face appeare: and as thou ball me promise made, so teach me thee to force.
- 170 Adine humble involication towards thee let finde accesse: and grant me Lord beliverance, for to is the promite.
- 171 Then shall my lips the mailes speake after most ample fort. when thou thy statutes hast me taught, wherein stands my comfort.
- 172 ADy tongue thall fing and preach the word, and on this wife fay thatt. Gods famous acts and noble lawes, are just and perfect all.

173 Stretch

- 173 Stretch out thy hand I thee beleech; and speedily me saue: for thy commandements to observe, chosen D Lord I have:
- 174 Of thee alone Lord I crave health, for other I know none: and in thy law and nothing else, I doe delight alone:
- 175 Grant me therefoze long daies to live thy pame to magnifie : and of the judgements mercifull, let me the favour tre.
- 176 for I was loft and went aftray, much like a wanding sheepe: oh seeke me, for I have not faild, the commandements to keepe.

Because mankind to Sathan was, for fin in bond and theall, he came and offered up himselfe, to death, to save healt.

And suffering most grieuous paine, then Pilate being Judge, was crucified on the crosse, and thereat hid not grupoe.

And so he dyed in the stell, but quickned in the spright:
his body then was buried, as is out bie and right.
his spirit did after this descend, into the lower parts, to them that long in darknesse were, the true light of their hearts.

And in the third day of his death, he role to life againe, to th'end he might be glozified, out of all griefe and paine.

Alcending to the heavens hie, to lit in glozy fill:

on Gods right hand his father deare, according to his will.

Untill the day of indgement come, when he shall come againe, with Angels power (yet of that day we all be uncertaine.)

To indge all people righteously, whom he hath bearely bought:
the living and the dead also, which he hath made of nought.

And in the holy spirit of God, my faith to latisfie:
the third person in Trinity, beleeve I stedfassly.

And because we have need continually to crave many things at thy hands, we humbly beseech ther (D heavenly father) to grant by thy holy spirit, to direct our petitions, that they may proceed from fuch a feruent mind, as may be agreeable to the most blessed will. and seeing that our infirmity is able to do nothing with: out top heipe, and that thou art not ignorant with how many and great temptations, we poore wretches are on every fibe enclosed and compassed: Let the strength D Lord, sustaine our weakenesse, that we being defended with the force of the grace, may be lafely preferued against all assaults of sathan, who goeth about continually like a roaring Lyon feeking to devour by. Increase our faith D mercifuli tather, that we do not tweene at any time from the heavenly word. but augment in by hope and love, with a carefull keeping of all thy commandes ments, that no hardnelle of heart, no sprocrifie, no concupifcence of the eyes not the inticements of the world, do draw by away from our obedience: a feeing we live now in these most perilous times, let the fatherly providence defend by against the piolence of our enemies, which be seeke by all meanes to oppresse the truth. Furthermore, for as much as by thy holp Apposite we be taught to make our prapers and supplications for all men, we pray not onely for our selves beere prefent, but befeech thee to reduce all fuch as be vet ignorant from the milerable captivity of blindnelle and error, to the pure buderstanding and knowledge of thy beauenly truth: That we all with one confeut and buity of minde may wos thip thee our onely God and Saujour. And that all Pastors, Shepheards and ministers, to whom thou hast committed the dispensation of the holy word and charge of thy chosen people, may both in their life and doctrine be found faithful, fetting before their eyes the glore: & that by them all poore theepe which wander and go aftrap, may be gathered and brought home to the fold. Moreover, because the hearts of all Rulers are in the hands, we befeech thee to direct and governe the hearts of all kings, Princes, & Magistrates to whom thou hast committed the fmord: Eineciaily D Lord, according to our bounden buty, we befeech thee to maintaine and increase the bonorable estate of the kings Maiesty, a all his noble Countellers and Dagistrates, with all the spiritual Passors and mi-nisters, and all the whole body of this common weale. Let thy fatherly fauor fo preferue them and the holy spirit so gouerne their hearts, that they may in fuch fort execute their office, that the religion may be purely maintained, manners reformed, and fin punished, according to the precise rule of the holy word. And for that we be al members of the myllicall body of Jelus Chaift, we make our request buto thee D heavenly father, for all fuch as are afflicted with any kind of croffe or tribulation, as war, plaque, famine lickenelle, pouetty, impais forment, perfecution, banishment, or any other kinde of the Croffe, whether it be calamity of body, or begation of minde: That it would please thee to give them patience and conflance till thou fend them full beliverance of all their troubles: Root out from hence (D Lord) all rauening wolues, which to fill their bellies feeke to bestrop the flock. And thew the great mercies beon those our brea theren in our countries, which are perfecuted, call into pulon, & dayly condens ned for the testimony of thy truth. And though they be betterly destitute of all mans aid, yet let the fweet comfort never bepart from them, but to inflame their hearts with thy holy spirit, that they may boldly and carefully abide such tryall, as the godly wifedome thall appoput. So that at length as well by their wath as by their life, the kingdome of the beare Son Jelus Chain, may increase and thine through all the world. In whose name we make our humble petitions buto thee as he hath taught bs. Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed, &c.
